

WHAT IS FCL FREIGHT FORWARDING?

Full Container Load (FCL) freight forwarding is when a complete shipping container is used specifically for the cargo of a single shipper transporting goods by ocean. FCL guarantees that your shipment is handled as a single unit from point of origin to point of destination, regardless of whether the container is used to its full capacity.

This differs from Less than Container Load (LCL), where cargo is consolidated with the goods of other businesses. Full Container Load (FCL) freight forwarding provides a dedicated and sealed container for your goods. It is the preferred method of ocean freight shipping for high-volume, high-value, or time-sensitive shipments.

ADVANTAGES OF FCL

Security and Control

- ✔ Your goods are sealed at the point of origin and remain untouched until they reach their final destination.
- ✔ Reduced handling minimises the risk of damage, theft, or contamination of your cargo.

Faster Transit Times

- ✔ FCL freight forwarding means that your goods are transported from your point of origin to their final destination without the need for consolidation or deconsolidation of the cargo.
- ✔ FCL benefits from shorter time in ports (dwell time) as well as faster customs processes.

Cost-Effective for Larger Loads

- ✔ FCL offers a competitive cost per cubic metre when shipping bulk cargo.
- ✔ Full Container Load freight forwarding is ideal for businesses that require regular high-volume shipments.
